GOSPEL: John 8:1-11

Jesus went to the Mount of Olives. But early in the morning he arrived again in the temple area, and all the people started coming to him, and he sat down and taught them. Then the scribes and the Pharisees brought a woman who had been caught in adultery and made her stand in the middle. They said to him, "Teacher, this woman was caught in the very act of committing adultery. Now in the law, Moses commanded us to stone such women. So what do you say?" They said this to test him, so that they could have some charge to bring against him. Jesus bent down and began to write on the ground with his finger. But when they continued asking him, he straightened up and said to them, "Let the one among you who is without sin be the first to throw a stone at her." Again he bent down and wrote on the ground. And in response, they went away one by one, beginning with the elders. So he was left alone with the woman before him. Then Jesus straightened up and said to her, "Woman, where are they? Has no one condemned you?" She replied, "No one, sir." Then Jesus said, "Neither do I condemn you. Go, and from now on do not sin any more."

RCIA - Catholic Social Teaching-Protecting the Dignity of the Human Person

Presenter: Deacon Charlie

"You did it to me." These five words of Jesus remind us of our responsibility to live in solidarity with the most vulnerable in society. The vulnerable includes those who suffer from unjust oppression, physical and psychological illness, material poverty, poverty of love and relationships, and the spiritual poverty of not knowing Christ's saving love. The Church teaches that human dignity is protected when basic human rights are protected. Come join the discussion!
